Hispana

Written by ILM
Sunday, 28 March 2010 22:38 - Last Updated Sunday, 28 March 2010 22:40

Hispana at hispana.mcu.es recently presented claims to be the second content provider to Europeana
(the so-called European digital library). In my opinion it is just another aggregation of existing resources. Looking at the list of on-going digitalization projects within the framework of that project I see also a lot of fragmentation. I am still waiting for a coordinated action on digitalisation of Spanish history archives... or at least some immediate results. Tip: Why CODOIN (Colección de Documentos Inéditos de la Historia de España) is not yet on-line?